PROFILE

Coming from a Bachelor of Commerce obtained this year, I will be honored to be able to integrate a structure such as yours. Indeed, I have remarkable qualities in writing and I thrive in human contact. Rigorous in everything I do, I listen to others who appreciate confiding in me. Methodical and organized, I am comfortable with the office tools Word, Excell, PowerPoint, but also the Internet that I use daily to indulge my passion for writing and converse with my relatives in search with an attentive ear. Mastering the figures rather well and reactive, administration and Marketing is an area that I am ready to discover at your side since I know how to be versatile. I can therefore quickly be effective in putting my qualities at your service, whose missions are perfectly in the continuity of my education.

Immediately available to meet with you for an interview in which we will begin to discuss further a potential collaboration, please believe, Madam, Sir, in the expression of my sincere greetings.
