Profile:-

Strong belief in the competency and motives of all aspects of life. Moreover, I was born eager to acquire new ideas and skills. That's why every place is a source of inspiration to me, and as an interpreter I should focus on being:

- Collaborate with colleagues to compile helpful information, including terms and definitions, into an organized glossary for regular reference during the translation process
- Honor outlined ethical codes to ensure sensitive and confidential information remains secure and protected
- Identify terms and words with conflicting meanings to determine which alternative provides clarity and reflects the original purpose of the message
- Verify, modify and edit translations to compensate for discrepancies in technical terms and to guarantee that the final content is consistent with original material
- Consult dictionaries, encyclopedias and terminology compilations to remain educated and current with the meaning of words and phrases
- Analyze audience members and listen to debriefings on what materials will be translated, to best assess how to present interpreted data
- Document changes to translated materials, and maintain an orderly method for filing data for reference later on.

Skills and interests :-

Fluent in both Arabic and English.

Excellent communication skills in English.

Good attention to detail and organizational skills.

Interested in swimming, billiards, football and for sure exercising at the gym regularly.

Note:

I have a Saudi driving licence.
